

Politics of Hospitality: A Conceptual Genealogy

Benjamin Boudou

CNRS Editions, 2017

Table of contents

INTRODUCTION

“A virtue of a great soul”

The genealogical method

Chapter 1. The virtue of nature: The myth of a primitive hospitality

The problem of reciprocity: Hospitality as a starting mechanism

Distinguishing the gift from hospitality: A ritual social contract

Forms and functions of hospitality rituals

Ethics and politics of hospitality

Chapter 2. The virtue of contract: The myth of an ancient hospitality

Cicero’s enigma

The ambiguities of the contract of hospitality

Athens and Rome: Two models of citizenship

Chapter 3. The virtue of charity: The virtue of a sacred hospitality

Problematizing the “stranger”

Sovereignty at the borders: The construction of the body politic

From church beneficence to commercial hospitality

Chapter 4. The virtue of sociability: The myth of a cosmopolitical hospitality

Hospitality between generosity and predation: Vitoria and Grotius

The sovereign’s last word: Pufendorf and Kant

Chapter 5. The virtue of alterity: The myth of an unconditional hospitality

The troubles with contemporary hospitality

In the name of hospitality: The “sans-papiers” case

A new relation between ethics and politics

Difficult or impossible hospitality? Derrida and Ricœur

CONCLUSION. HOSPITALITY TODAY: DEMOCRATIZING BORDERS

INDEX

REFERENCES